

Meet the characters

Maddie may be shy on the surface but, underneath she's street-smart with a quirky sense of humour and confidence and courage by the gigabyte. This, along with her unshakable sense of character, makes her the ideal 'Online Oracle'.

Saffron

Saffron Parker is 13 - a full year older than Maddie, so naturally she sees herself as being so much more worldly! Saffron loves being noticed! She's the kind of natural blonde beauty who turns heads wherever she goes!

Rainbow

Rainbow is 12 years old and completely eccentric! A natural optimist and a dreamer, her head is perpetually in the clouds, absorbed with vast concepts and causes. She rarely burdens herself with such mundane concerns as school timetables and homework!

L33T

L33T (pronounced 'Leet') is computer slang for "elite", as in 'U R no match 4 my L33t skills as a cyber warrior!' L33t wears this motto like a badge of honour, seeing it as proof of his technical prowess.

Ace

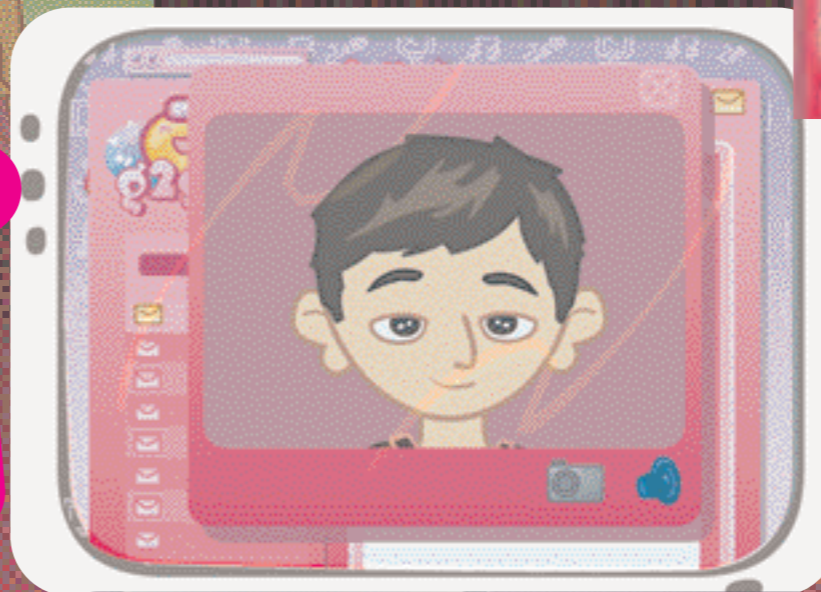

Ace is the school hunk, soccer superstar and guitarist/lead singer of 'Shout Out'. He's tall and brooding with the most dazzling set of perfect white teeth this side of toothpaste.

Stinky

Samuel Parker is Saffron's sport-mad twin brother and a complete pain. He's a pubescent teenager who doesn't understand the purpose of deodorant, regular washing or younger siblings.

Shy 12-year old Maddie Marples-Mcintosh hates the limelight but, with the life she's living, it's almost impossible to avoid it! For one thing, both her parents are big TV stars.

Her mom Mandiee Marples, hosts the top-rated showbiz celebrity report and her dad, Mac Macintosh, is a famous globe-trotting journalist. No prizes for guessing that Maddie's home life is anything but ordinary. Even Amelia Earhart, her all-too-human Chinese-crested hairless pooch, practically needs to book her 'walkies' in advance!

Luckily, Maddie can always count on her two closest friends: Saffron and Rainbow, even though they are about as different as can be, the trio forms a nucleus tighter than an uranium atom. Maddie trusts them with her life... just not her big secret!

You see, since the start of high school, Maddie has been living a double life! Beneath her shy exterior there beats the heart of an online oracle who hosts the advice column of the official school weblog, known to her devoted fans only as, 'Ms. Communication'.

Everyday, Maddie logs on secretly and tackles the latest batch of queries. No topic is too contentious and no dilemma too daunting! Like a pre-teen Carrie Bradshaw, Ms. Communication always answers with wisdom, warmth and sparkling wit... but, of course, with the freedom of total anonymity. There have been some close calls though - particularly from 'L33t', the school's resident 'uber-geek' and a fervent Ms Communication critic.

Even though she's a school-wide phenomenon online, in real life Maddie is constantly overlooked, particularly by Ace who is the aspiring rock star she has a crush on. If only Maddie had an oracle to turn to with her own dilemmas!

However, that's just not how it works when you're the one and only Ms Communication!
